MAY 5 1955

IT WAS GOOD to see Mrs. Charles E. Cabell, wife of the Deputy Central Intelligence Director, who's been away too much these last weeks. Dark-haired Jacklyn Cabell wore a soft pink sheer wash suit with a cap of deeper pink flowers. She and the General are going up to West Point for June week, she said, for the General's class reunion. Their son, Charles, Jr., is a plebe at the academy, and they'll take their daughter, Catherine, along. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William D. Eckert, next door neighbors to the Cabells at Bolling Field, were there, and others were Mrs. John Stambaugh and Mrs. Randolph Kidder, recently back from Saigon.
